Visitors and Events

Kitty Burkhart, Foreign Student Advisor, was honored with a reception held on Monday, September 13, celebrating 25 years with the Office of International Services at IU-Bloomington. Pictured with Kitty Burkhart (right) are colleagues Patty Kent, former OIS receptionist, and OIS Director and Associate Dean Kenneth Rogers.

On September 26-28, prominent scholars, administrators, and government officials from Poland, Slovakia, the Czech Republic, and West European countries gathered in Bloomington for the conference, “East Central Europe in Transition: A Conference on Society, Politics, and the Economy in East Central Europe,” sponsored by the IU-B Polish Studies Center and the Russian and East European Institute. The opening address and dinner held on Sunday, September 26 featured greetings from such dignitaries as (from left to right) Michal Grocholski, Consul-General of the Consulate of the Republic of Poland, and Boguslaw Winid, First Secretary of the Embassy of the Republic of Poland.

Nareewan Chintakonond, Dean of Thailand’s School of Statistics at the National Institute of Development Administration, with Associate Dean Kenneth Rogers, during her August visit to the Bloomington campus. (photo courtesy of Mark Simons, IU Instructional Support Services, Bloomington)